Poacos Court.—There were forty-four cases before Judge Lowe yesterday morning, none of which were remarkably interesting. We give a few specimens below.

A quadrangular fight took place at a beorhouse on the Hamilton Road, near the Milloreek bridge, on Sunday night last, in which most of the participants were badly 'injured. The whole party was taken into custody, and appeared with broken head and swollen eyes before Judge Lowe. Peter Wagner, one of the parties with whom the row originated, was sentenced to the dungeon for a term of ten days, while Charles Miltzer, and Fritz Triber, the landlord, were fined each ten dollars and costs. Triber was also fined a similar amount for selling liquor on Sunday.

A young man named Lewis Long was charged with stealing a lot of paving tools which he found lying in the street, and selling them at a second-hand store on Fifth-street. He was sentenced to the County Jail at hard labor for a term of four months.

A fellow named Rdward V. Wilson was arraigned upon a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses—having precured twenty-one dollars from a woman on Broadway for the purpose, as he said, of redeeming a watch which he had pawned. He used the money but the waich, which he had promised her as security, she never saw. This charge was dismissed for want of testimony—the woman, as is usual in such cases, failing to appear; but ha was still held taball to answer a charge of disorderly conduct, on Wednesday next, in the sum of $100.

A fellow named Wilkinson beat a woman in a bagaio on Sixth-street, on Saturday night, and when her lover attempted to revenge the brutality which hed been inflicted upon the unfortunate girl, he was arrested and fined $15 and costs, and sentenced to the dungeon for three days; while Wilkinson was discharged upon payment of $10 and costs.

of his Wife. or his Wife.

Coroner Carey was called upon yesterday afternoon to hold an inquest upon the body of a man named John Linner, who blew out his brains in the presence of his family under the following circumstances, which were developed by the testimony elicited before the coroners into.

For two years past the deceased has suffered extremely from consumption, the most ghostly and horrible form that the angel of death ever assumes, and during a part of this time was an inmane of the City Infirmary. He was discharged from that institution, however, some menths ago, the physician telling him that he could not be cured and that the only thing that medicine could do for him was to prolong his life for a few weeks, perhaps months, and render his death less hard and painful.

Since then he has been depressed in spirit, but not to any great extent; for it does not appear that he, by any word or act, induced any one to believe that he contemplated self-appear that he, by any word or act, induced any one to believe that he contemplated self-destruction. The family were in extremely reduced circumstances, and resided at No. 564 Race-street, in the same house with a dozen others almost as wretched, pecuniarily, as themselves, and subsisted upon the scanty earnings of the eldest child, who was but thirteen years of age.

Yesterday afternoon at half-past two c'clock the wife of the deceased was engaged in kneading some bread, when he inquired where she intended to bake it, and received for a reply that she would put it in the oven of a neighbor who resided across the street. In a little while afterward she left the room with her loaves, when he arose and loaded a pistol; his children, three in number—the oldest being absent—gasing on with all the curicalty peculiar to their nature, and little dreaming that their parent was preparing a weapon which would make them semi-orphanes.

He heard the footfall of his wife upon the stairs and his haste increased. He finished loading the instrument just in time for his purpose, however, and when she opened the door of their room he was standing with the musule of the pistol pressed against his temple. She shricked and sprang forward, divining his intention, but it was too late. She heard a sharp, quick report, and her husband fell dead at her feet, while his brains, scattered in every direction, covered her face and shut out from her gaze, for a moment, the horrid sight.

The deceased was forty years of age, and,

The deceased was forty years of age, and, as has been already stated, leaves a wife and four children, the eldest of whom is but thirteen years of age. The verdlet of the coroner's jury was in accordance with the facts we have above related.

The McMicken Free University.

The City Council passed, last night, the ordinance, some time pending, to provide for the devise of a large real and personal estate by CHARLES MCMICKEN to the city of Oiscinnati, for founding two colleges for the free education of youth of both sexes, and for care of orphans. The selection of the Directors will be made at the next meeting of the City

The ordinance provides that there shall be by the clity Council—the first chosen, however, to draw lots for the term of office, so that one go out of office on the last day of each year—the seventh Director to be the Mayor of the city for the time being. The City Council, at the first regular meeting in December in each year, to elect the successor of each outgoing member.

The Directors are to organize within one The Directors are to organize within one month after their election, and to take immediate possession of the real estate and pay over, without any discount, all the rents, income, and all other money's arising from the estate, into the City Treasury; a majerity vote of the Board being necessary to authorize any payment from the funds. The Directors are confined in their expenditures to the income of the current year. The title given to the school is denominated, "The Free University, founded by Charles MoMicken." The Directors are to present a project or system rectors are to present a project or system founded upon the amount of present and prospective receipts, for buildings as needed, and a plan to conduct the instruction in the University—after approval of the plan by the City Council.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT TO A CHILD .- Last evening a female child, daughter of John Kilroy, residing on Second-street, between Blm and Plum, while playing with a broken umbrells, fell upon one of the steel supporters, which passed through her cheek into her mouth and broat, making a dangerous wound, that may prove fatal.

DR. BELLOWS' LECTURE THIS EVENING. Rev. H. W. Bellows will deliver his last lecture this evening, before the Y. M. M. L. Association, at Smith & Nixon's, on the "Criterion of Social Progress."

AMUSEMENTS.

Pike's Opera-house.—A brilliant audience attanded the Opera-house last night, and left it highly delighted with the performance. The "Bensdick" of Mr. Murdech was a chaste, scholarly and beautiful impersonation, and was rendered with that ease and grace which is peculiar to the highly finished and artistic style of this admirable actor. The "Beatrice" of Mrs. Conway evinced a just conception of the character, which she translated to all who witnessed it in aspirited and effective manner. The play was admirable in all its appointments, and was enacted, as a whole, quite as well as we remember to have ever seen it.

To-night Mr. M. will appear as "Macbeth," notwithstanding the suggestion of the jester, who, in a morning cotemporary, advised him to eschew tragedy, Mrs. Conway appearing as "Lady Macbeth."

WOO'S THEATER.—Maggie Mitchell drew an excellent house to this cosy establishment, last night, and seems to have added new admirers to the number she was already enabled to count. She is quite as piquant as ever, and causes, apparently, as much enthusiasm as if she were entirely new to the habitoes of the Theater. To-night she will appear as "Frederick" in the charming little drama of The Young Panner, and as "Margaret Wilton" in the laughable proteam farce of The Laules' Stranzaem.

NATIONAL THEATER.—The attendance at this theater last evening was moderate on the occasion of the lifet appearance of Mrs. Farren and her damphter, Fannie Fitz. Mrs. F. is not a favorite in this city, nor with us, though a good actress in many parts, one of the best of which is "Lucreia Borgia." The fair Fannie's "Coustance' we did not witness, and can notspeak of it, therefore.

This evening, a fine programme, Bowe's tragedy of Jane Shore, and—if we remember rightly—lirs. Orowley's old comedy of the Ballar's Stranzaem.

Neither of these pieces is often put upon the stage, and ought to draw a large house.

KENTON CADETS.—Captain J. M. Blackburn having resigned his office as commander of this company. A. L. Jamison was chosen, on Saturday night his successor.

Differentially Cospuct in a House of Bad Repurs.—Three men, named Terrence Magnire, Jno. McQuinn and Morris Moony, visited a house of illinguage on Stuart-street, on Sunday night last, and, becoming intoxicated, were so disorderly as to attract the attention of the Marshals, who arrested and lodged them in jall. Yesterday morning they were fined $12 80 each.

The River at this port continues to decline slowly, and at points above to fall gradually. The watm wather has rendered the handing very moddy, and prevents tome shippers from sending off freight. If his snow and ice have melted above as they have in this vicinity, it is probable we may have another rise, or at least a check to the present descent of the Ohio. The decline of the water here in any event will not, probably, be rapid, and we may reasonably look for a good stage for some weeks to come.

Business was not active at the leve yestarday, freights being offered in less quantity to all points than on Saturday. On freights for New Orleans there was a slight decline. The rates to the different ports were as follows:

gation and the weather at St. Louis: The river here continues to fall at the rate of one foot in twenty-four hours. The total decline at dark last-evening was very near four feet. There is not more than five and a half feet in the channel out to more than five and a half feet in the channel one to Usiro.

The feating ice in the river has very materially decreased in quantity and weight. A good deal of it continues to come down, and above the foot of Morgan-street the river is frozen nearly half way across on the Illinois side. One of the ferry-boats was engaged all day yesterday in breaking it up, and succeeded to some extent.

The weather is quite mild, with the wind nearly due south, and a general thaw is the consequence. The street and levee are very sloppy, but the rays of the sun and the mild south wind have not yet penetrated more than the surface of the snow and ice.

BRIER ALLEGED TO DAYE BEEN RECKIVED BY A GRAND JURON.—G. G. Smith was arraigned before Judge Collins on a charge of soliciting a bribe from Poter Gandolpho, sen., while he (the accused) was acting in the capacity of foreman of the November Grand Jury for this county. It is alleged further that he received the bribe of $15. promising therefor to acquit the sons of Gandolpho, whose case had been investigated by the Grand Jury.

When arraigned, the defendant said he was not guilty, and charged the prosecution as malicious.

Judge Collins remarked that the accused need not dwell on the facts now.

Mr. Gainesand the facts warranted the procecution. A bond in the sum of $500 was given for the appearance of defendant.

We have to report an unusually quiet day in Money affairs. As no mail is made up for Europe to-morrow, there is not much done in Exchange. The terms for best-class bank and banker's bills on London are 1094c.@1095 per cont., with some southern bank indorsements on merchant bills at 1094 per cent. The lastnews from Europe and the fall in Exchange here is favorably influencing the market for Money, the supply to the brokers being freer at 5 per cent., and discounts at bank somewhat easier on the longer date offerings. Outside of bank, some primes sixty day acceptances are done at 5 per cent., and a few select lists of ninety-day double-name paper at 55 per cent. CINCINNATI MARKET-DECREER 12.

DODGE'S PATENT IMPROVEMENT

GRATES AND STOVES

Any Style of Grates can be Set or Reset with this Improvement.

WE ARE NOW PREPARED TO FILL orders rapidly, as we have a large force of good workmen.

Have your grates set with the patent before cold weather, or you will regret it. It is poor economy to use your grates set in the old way, burning twice as much heat as the patent gives. The patent will save your money by reducing the consumption of fuel. It will save your health, by giving you pure heat and plenty of it to make your rooms comfortable in a lits. It makes your home cheerful at a triffing con, which is soon saved in fuel.

We have now a full supply of the Patent Stoves, plain and enameled.

Orders may be left at No. 20 West Fifth-street, or sent through mail.
